

Ol' Don's Drawing Table

© 2012

I sure hope this ol' boy doesn't try to shave with the toothpaste he's putting on his razor or, worse yet, try to brush his teeth with the razor. I decided to do this project as a bust rather than a full figure so the focus would be on what he is doing.

Any time you are carving a project where the action of the figure is to be the focal point, make sure you give him or her a suitable facial expression to emphasize the activity. For example, giving this figure a happy smiling face would not create a convincing piece.

It's

gonna

be one

of

those days

Front
pattern
view

Profile
pattern
view

